Coming in March!
Barristers Brackets

As we do every March, we will be hosting our annual Barristers Bracket contest. So be on the look out for more information as that time approaches. We will have brackets available on our website for you to use or you may use one that you have. We'll let you know what date to submit by to be eligible for

February 2014

Barrister's All-Stars

Matt Doyle of Doyle & Wallace

Our All-Star feature this month is Matt Doyle of Doyle & Wallace, a Charlottd-based law firm.

We have chosen to highlight Matt because he has truly taken advantage of Sal's unprecedented availability. We pride ourselves on the fact that Sal encourages customers to reach out to him on his cell phone or email at any time of the day that they need his assistance. Matt has really taken advantage of this service element and we are happy he has. Sal has been able to assist Matt clear up issues that could have been road blocks to closings. We love to help our customers help their clients.

Thank you Matt!

Please feel free to get in touch with Sal whenever you need him at either sal@barristerstitle.com or his cell phone the contest.

Looking forward to it!

Riddle

Here we go again with our fun Riddle contest. Just to review... Whomever sends in the correct answer to the newsletter Riddle will win a prize from Barristers Title.

Email Reminder

Orders@barristerstitle.com

We wanted to take a moment to encourage you to send all communication to our "all office" email (above). Because of the urgency of most of your emails we don't want any of them to not be seen for any length of time. Occasionally because of unexpected events we may not be sitting at our desks to see emails addressed to us individually. Especially if your request is urgent, be sure that the entire office receives your email by sending it to orders@barristerstitle.com.

Our very own Alphonso Smith

This past month our Triad Sales and Marketing

Representative, Alphonso Smith, was featured in the Wake Forest Gold Rush Magazine. Click here to read the article. We are so proud to call him a member of the Barrister's Title family.

The Quill Funny

This month's Quill Funny is not exactly funny. It is definitely interesting and quite amazing though. The nerds of us thought it was too good not to share... Enjoy!

Meet the Family- Emily McIntyre

Please help us in welcoming Emily McIntyre to the Barristers Title family! She is in our Operations Department.

Upon obtaining her Paralegal degree, Emily took a position working at the Office of Juvenile Justice where she was a court secretary and interacted with attorneys, judges, court counselors, parents and children. She eventually became a real estate paralegal, which has been her career path for the last fifteen (15) years until joining ts at Barrister's Title.

Emily grew up as the child of an Active Duty Army Member. Growing up, she lived in numerous places, but has been in Charlotte for the past twenty (21) years. She is the mother of three wonderful children, two girls and one boy.

Emily has an AAS in Paralegal Technology from Central Piedmont Community College. She is currently pursuing an AAS in Criminal Justice from CPCC as well as completing a BS in Business Administration with Capella. In her free time she enjoys watching Investigation Discovery, Snapped, Deadly Woman and Law & Order. Her favorite author is James Patterson. Her experience with the Office of Juvenile Justice fostered a passion for working with at-risk children. Emily has a true passion for helping children and people in need and volunteers twice a month at Urban Ministry. She hopes to open an at risk group home for children someday.
